

These shaded shapes correctly represent  $\frac{3}{4}$ .

Children will represent the non-unit fractions in different ways. For example, they may draw shapes and shade the fraction; draw diagrams like bar models; or use practical equipment like counters.