

Crime and Punishment Vocabulary

1. Cut out each item.
2. Match the description with the picture.
3. Sort them into the following categories in the table: people, crime or punishment.
4. Are there any more crimes and punishments you can think of? Add them to the table.

A group of people, including a judge and jury, who come together and decide on whether people are guilty or not according to the law.

The act of killing someone deliberately, not by accident.

The criminal act of deliberately setting fire to property.

The act of being put to death as punishment for breaking the law.

This is a person who has been chosen to decide cases in a law court.

A person harmed, injured or killed as a result of a crime, accident or other event.

A wooden frame with holes for the head and hands where someone would be forced to stay for lengths of time and be embarrassed in public, sometimes having things thrown at them.

A person who sees an event, such as a crime, take place.

A group of (usually twelve) people who give a verdict in a case based on the information that is presented in a court.

To be sent away from the home country forever, and never allowed to come back.

The action or crime of stealing, taking something you do not own.

A full-body illustration of a Roman senator. He is an older man with a receding hairline, wearing a laurel wreath. He is dressed in a white toga draped over a white tunic, secured with a gold brooch on his right shoulder. He holds a rolled-up scroll in his left hand and gestures with his right hand. He wears brown leather sandals. A black line from the text above points to his mouth.

As judge, I have heard all the evidence and have made my decision. You have been accused of...

[illegible]

